XWCatergoryView()

graph BT; XWCatergoryView() --> UICollectionViewDataSource; XWCatergoryView() --> UICollectionViewDelegate;
```

The diagram illustrates the relationship between a custom view class and two UIKit protocols. At the bottom, a box labeled 'XWCatergoryView()' represents the implementation class. Two blue arrows originate from this box and point upwards to two separate protocol boxes. The left protocol box is labeled '<UICollectionViewDataSource>' and the right protocol box is labeled '<UICollectionViewDelegate>'. This indicates that 'XWCatergoryView()' conforms to both protocols.
